Article IV – Judicial Branch

SECTION 1 – Function

Wake Forest University is firmly committed to principles of honor and ethical conduct. The Honor Code embodies a spirit of trust that pervades all aspects of student life. Each student’s word should be worthy of trust. A violation of this trust is an offense against the community. Membership in the student body signifies a student’s commitment to the Honor Code and the judicial system. It is the responsibility of every student to act honorably in all phases of student life, to understand student rights and responsibilities, and to preserve the integrity of the honor code. The function of the judicial branch is to provide a fair determination of whether a student has violated a College rule and to assess penalties, pursuant to the Constitution of the Judicial Council.

(A) The Honor and Ethics Council. The Honor and Ethics Council is the central deliberative body in the conduct system for academic cases. It hears all cases involving academic misconduct, except those handled by the interim process. Its task is to find the truth and render fair judgments.
(B) The Board of Investigators and Advisors. The Board of Investigators and Advisors has two functions: 1. Members of this board investigate academic cases and present the cases before the Honor and Ethics Council; 2. Members advise and represent accused students in all phases of an investigation, hearing, and appeal, in academic and nonacademic cases. For each academic case, one member of the Board is assigned as investigator and one as advisor. In non-academic cases, members may be assigned to advise and represent accused students in administrative hearings. In both academic and non-academic cases, the accused may decline the assistance of an advisor and may speak for himself or herself during the hearing. At times when BIA members are not available, the BIA advisor may work with accused students to secure appropriate representation.

(C) The Judicial Co-Chairs. The Judicial Co-Chairs, in conjunction with the Judicial Officer, are responsible for the operation of the judicial system. They attend the weekly Judicial Conference, coordinate investigations and advising, arrange hearings, constitute the hearing panels from the pools of the Honor and Ethics Council, and preside over hearings.

SECTION 2 – Composition

(A) The Honor and Ethics Council. For any given hearing, the Honor and Ethics Council is composed of five persons: the Dean of the College (or his/her designate), two faculty members, and two students. The faculty and student members are drawn from larger pools. Each pool consists of ten persons.

(B) The Board of Investigators and Advisors. The Board of Investigators and Advisors is composed of sixteen undergraduate students. The Associate Dean for Student Conduct will serve as advisor to the Board.

(C) The Judicial Co-Chairs. There are two Judicial Co-Chairs, one with previous experience on the Honor and Ethics Council, and one with previous experience on the Board of Investigators and Advisors. Both Judicial Co-Chairs are undergraduate students.

SECTION 3 – Interim Judicial Process

(A) During the time period beginning with the last day of classes in the spring semester and ending with the beginning of registration in the fall semester, and at any other time during which the normal Honor and Ethics Council is unavailable, the interim judicial process shall be presented as an option to any accused student to provide hearing and judgment.

(B) If the student chooses the normal procedure rather than the interim judicial process, he/she/they thereby agrees to be available for a hearing at the next time the normal procedure is available.

(C) The interim judicial process will provide a hearing before the Dean of the College or his/her/their designate in honor cases and the Dean of Student Services or his/her/their designate in community responsibility cases. In cases where the dean chooses not to act alone due to the complexity or the severity of the cases, he/she/they may choose to convene a panel composed of himself/herself/themself, a student, and a faculty member. Students should be chosen from a list of qualified students identified by the Honor and Ethics Council as being available during the interim. Should none of these students be available, the dean may choose any available student that he/she/they feels is qualified. Cases involving students electing the interim process will be investigated by a member of the Board of Investigators and Advisors if available, or another student appointed by the dean.

Article V – Students in University Government

Applications for appointment, as well as student nominations submitted by the faculty, to University Committees shall be made available to all undergraduate students during the spring semester of each academic year. The Student Government President will review all applications and conduct interviews of selected candidates at his/her/their discretion. The President, with the advice and consent of the executive officers, shall then forward to the Office of the Dean of the College two nominees per committee (to be designated first and second choice, in the event that one student cannot serve his/her/their term of appointment). Upon approval by the Dean of the College, the same nominees will be forwarded to the University President, who will give final approval for student appointments. Notification of appointment(s) will be made by either the office of the Dean of the College or the University President.

The process by which the Student Trustee is selected is outlined in the Statutes that follow this Constitution.

Article VI – Statutes

The statutes that follow this Constitution shall be established to regulate the specific functions of Student Government. In order that the changing needs of the student body of Wake Forest may be met, these statutes shall be subject to addition, amendment, or abolition by a two-thirds majority of the Senate provided the Senate has published the proposed change one week before the official vote.

The Constitution of Student Government shall be amended or revised only with the consent of two-thirds of the Senate’s approval as expressed by secret ballot.

Article VIII – Ratification
